

NEGRO SLEW
FOR REVENGE.

Shot Mother and Two Children in Their Home.

WAS SERVANT IN HOUSE.

Officers Sent to Arrest Him for Theft Received by Murderer.

PHILADELPHIA, April 1.—William Lane, a negro servant employed by Charles F. Furbush, at No. 652 North Fifteenth street, to-day shot and killed Mrs. Ellen Furbush, forty-two years old, and her daughter Madeline E. Furbush, ten years old, and probably fatally wounded Eloise Furbush, seven years old, another daughter. Lane had been suspected of stealing money from his employer and to-day a warrant was sworn out for his arrest by Mrs. Furbush.

The negro learned this and committed the murders in revenge. Mrs. Furbush and Eloise were on the third floor of the house and Madeline was on roller skates in front of the house. After killing the mother and fatally injuring one child, Lane called Madeline into the house and she followed him upstairs to the third story, where he shot her dead.

Mr. Furbush has not yet been found by the police, and it is said he has gone to New York.

Lane Received Policemen.

Special Policemen Graham and Mander went to the Furbush residence this morning and Lane answered their ring at the door. They told him they wanted to see Mrs. Furbush, and he invited them into the sitting-room and told them Mrs. Furbush was upstairs and that he would call her. They had been sitting there about five minutes when Eloise staggered into the room crying: "William has shot mamma and Madeline and he is going to shoot me." The policemen ran upstairs and found Mrs. Furbush dead in the third-story room, and Madeline mortally wounded in an adjoining room. The little girl died a few minutes later.

They made a search for Lane but he had disappeared and a colored female servant in the rear kitchen told them Lane had gone out by the back gate. A general alarm was sent out and then began a search for the murderer in which almost the entire police and detective force of the city participated, ending with his capture at Philadelphia, a ferryboat in Camden, across the Delaware River from this city, a few hours later.

The arrest was made by Detective Bond and Murray, two of the oldest and most experienced men on the local force. Their rapid work in getting Lane back to this city was disputed by the Camden police authorities, and what promised to be a sensational case was averted by the action of the Philadelphia officials, who rushed their prisoner on to a ferryboat bound for Philadelphia, and thus got him out of the jurisdiction of the Camden police.

Traced to Camden.

Detectives first visited the Broad street station of the Pennsylvania Railroad and there learned that a man answering Lane's description had endeavored to buy a ticket to Bridgeport. Detectives Danahy, Hest, Miller and Graham knowing that he would have to go to Camden if he desired to reach Bridgeport, then hastened to Market street ferry and crossed the river to the Pennsylvania Railroad station on the Camden side.

There they learned that Lane had sent a telegram to his sister at Bridgeport, N. J., saying he would visit her this afternoon. This was at 2:30 o'clock. From the ticket agent they learned that the first train for Bridgeport would leave at 3:15. Upon being told of the station agent whether a colored man had purchased a ticket for Bridgeport, Lane, who was standing about the station, was pointed out to them. They made a rush for him and threw him to the floor. He was asked for his pistol and he said it was in his dress suit case, which was in the waiting-room. On opening the suit case they found the revolver, a lot of jewelry and $100 in cash, which he had presumably stolen from the Furbush residence. His father is said to be a minister in Burlington.

WILLIAMS GETS FITCHIE'S PLACE.

LAWYER MADE COMMISSIONER OF IMMIGRATION.

President's Appointee is a Yale Man and Has Never Been Prominent in Politics.

President Roosevelt announced to-day the appointment of William Williams, of this city, to be Commissioner of Immigration for the Port of New York to succeed Thomas Fitchie.

Mr. Williams' appointment was expected, as he was in Washington last week conferring with the President about it. He will take hold immediately. The new Commissioner is a lawyer at No. 35 Wall street. He has never been prominent in politics. He was graduated from Yale in 1884 and is a member of the University, Yale, Century and Larchmont Yacht Clubs, of the Bar Association and of the Metropolitan Club in Washington.

CORONER SCORES
DR. F. W. BLINN.

Before Jury He Criticizes Physician's Methods.

IN THE NORRIS INQUEST.

Says Circumstantial Evidence Tends Strongly to Suggest Crime.

The coroner's jury holding the inquest into the death of Miss Marie Norris, of New Preston, Conn., who died last week under suspicious circumstances in the "sanitarium" conducted by Dr. Francis W. Blinn, at No. 165 West Forty-seventh street, retired to consider its finding at 4:40 o'clock this afternoon.

Coroner Goldenkranz, in charging the jury, made severe criticisms upon Dr. Blinn's professional methods and read a copy of Dr. Blinn's advertisement of his sanitarium.

He said that while there was no direct evidence that a crime had been committed there was much circumstantial evidence.

Mrs. Bertha Craig, Dr. Blinn's nurse, was hysterical on the stand when telling of the death of Miss Norris. She testified that Miss Norris had told her she was suffering from heart trouble when she arrived at Dr. Blinn's.

Dr. William H. Oyster, of No. 216 West One Hundred and Twenty-fourth street, testified that on March 21 he had been called in by Dr. Blinn, who said to him:

"I'm in a peck of trouble."

"Then," Dr. Oyster, "Dr. Blinn asked me about a death certificate for a patient in the sanitarium who had died," he said, "of heart disease."

Dr. E. D. Klotz, of No. 122 West Forty-seventh street, said that on March 22 he was called to Dr. Blinn's house by telephone to see Miss Norris.

"Miss Norris was very nearly dead then, dying rapidly of heart failure," said Dr. Klotz. "Dr. Blinn asked me if I could perform the operation."

Dr. Blinn asked me after the death if I could stand by him, and I said I would make a simple statement of facts."

When the witness was let go, he asked to be allowed to leave the court-room. The coroner would not allow it, and Dr. Klotz made a grimace at him behind his back.

Informed of this, the coroner wrathfully ordered Dr. Klotz brought before him at once.

"You have misbehaved yourself," he said. "I could line you heavily for contempt of court. If such a thing should occur again it would be my duty to fine you, and my pleasant duty."

"Yes, sir," said the physician humbly.

Coroner's Physician O'Hanlon testified that the operation might have been criminal or natural.

ALDERMAN BRIDGES
IN A GREAT RAGE.

SHAKES HIS FIST AT CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD.

Big Row Over the Three-Platoon Police System, but the Matter Is Postponed.

Alderman Bridges broke loose again at the meeting of the Board of Aldermen this afternoon. It was over the resolution favoring the restoration of the three-platoon police system.

The Committee on Police, which was instructed last week to report to-day, failed to do so, and the Board took a recess of five minutes and instructed the committee to prepare and present its report in that time.

Two reports were handed up by the committee at the reassembling of the board.

The majority report was signed by Aldermen Dowling, Keely, Higgins and Kennedy, favored the resolution. The minority report was signed by Aldermen Haller, the Chairman, Dickinson and Howland. The minority presented a long report in opposition to the change.

This report aroused Bridges, who demanded to know who drew it. He intimated that it came from Partridge's office.

Chairman Melnes reproved Bridges, who, while with anger, half ran up the aisle and, shaking his fist, cried:

"I'm a member of this board as well as you! Don't forget that! Don't you dare make any reflections on my remark! Do you understand that? I mean it! Don't you dare! Do you understand?"

President Fornes asked for a postponement to which there was opposition.

The vote was 41 to 27 for immediate consideration, but as it was not two-thirds it was lost and it went over to next week.

CIRL TEACHER
CAUGHT THIEF.

Miss Mamie Dolan Found Smith in Her Home.

THREW ARMS AROUND HIM.

Burglar Fought Desperately with Her Father and Brother.

Mamie Dolan, a young and pretty teacher in the school attached to St. Patrick's Cathedral, found a burglar in a room at her home, No. 883 Third avenue, to-day.

Screaming loudly, she sprang at the burglar and threw her arms around him. With an oath he threw her violently from him as Miss Dolan's father and brother rushed in. They grappled with the intruder, who dragged them after him as he sought to escape.

All three fell downstairs. The thief fought his way to the street, the Dolans, however, never removing their hold.

The struggle was continued in the street. Miss Dolan had run down to assist her father and brother and saw Detective "Jim" Macaulay, of the East Fifty-first street station, a short distance away. The girl and Macaulay were schoolmates together, and directly she saw him she ran toward him, crying: "Oh, Jim, help father!"

The detective quickly clubbed the man into submission and then took him to Yorkville Court.

At the court the man said he was Frank Smith, thirty-two years old, of No. 161 West Forty-fourth street. The address is believed to be fictitious. He was held in $2,000 bail on a charge of burglary.

METEOR STARTS
ACROSS OCEAN.

KAISER'S YACHT SAILS WITH STEAM CONSORT.

Passes Sandy Hook at 3 o'clock—Speedy and Trim in Looks.

The German Emperor's new Yankenburg schooner yacht Meteor passed Sandy Hook, Europe-bound, this afternoon, carrying her 110, forecast and mainmasts. The wind was blowing a main breeze from the west and at times becoming strong sent the yacht through the water at a lively clip.

At her main truck the private yacht signal of the German Emperor was hoisted. She also flew the Imperial Yacht Club pennant.

The Hamburg-American line steamship Scotia, Capt. Huer, received orders to sail at the same time that the Meteor III, got under way from Tompkinsville. She left her pier at Hoboken soon after 1 o'clock and steamed down the bay after the yacht. The Scotia will accompany the Meteor III to Germany.

Everything about the decks of the German Emperor's yacht, Meteor III, was taken secretly by the crew this morning, and soon after noon the storm was taken off the sails preparatory to getting under way. The weather had been threatening all the forenoon and southwest storm signals were displayed, but as the barometer did not fall any lower Capt. Karpf, after a consultation with Capt. Ben Parker and Sandy Hook First Pilot Dennis Reardon, decided to start on his ocean trip accordingly.

The schooner was hoisted and the forecast hoisted by 1:40. A moment later the big schooner filled away on the starboard tack, heading for the Narrows.

When Meteor III passed Quarantine her mainmast was still furled, but it looked as if the crew were getting ready to reef it. The Kaiserlicher Yacht Club's pennant was flying from the fore truck and the yacht was making good headway under her short canvas.

CARPENTERS ON STRIKE.

Full Force in Morristown, N. J., Go Out for Eight Hours.

(Special to The Evening World.) MORRISTOWN, N. J., April 1.—All the carpenters in Morristown, about two hundred in number, went on strike to-day demanding an eight-hour day. Several large buildings are in process of erection and work on all is at a standstill.

Notice was given to the boss carpenters two weeks ago that unless the eight-hour demand was granted the men would strike, and all were willing to grant the concession with the exception of the George A. Mills Company. From the present condition of affairs it looks much as if the strike would turn into a lockout and that men would be imported to take the place of the strikers. If this is done trouble will probably follow.

Big Fire in Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., April 1.—The large warehouses of the Peaselee-Gaulebert Company were destroyed by fire to-day. The buildings were filled with paints and oils. The loss is about $200,000.

$300,000 of Bad Assets in Columbia Mutual Crash

PJOR MURDER DEALS.

Big Concern with Many Shareholders Wants Affairs Wound Up.

Judge Lacombe in the United States District Court this afternoon appointed a receiver for the Columbia Mutual Building and Loan Association of New York. John Hanson Kennard, the present President of the Association, was appointed receiver. He has been connected with it about two months.

The application was made by Jacob F. Miers, of Hunterdon County, N. J. In his order of appointment Judge Lacombe said that the Association having entered voluntary appearance herein and admitted its insolvency and other allegations as to its financial and business condition and its inability to continue its business or accomplish the objects and purposes for which it was organized he would appoint John Hanson Kennard receiver.

Mr. Kennard is required to furnish a bond of $20,000.

It is alleged by Mr. Miers in his application that $300,000 of the Association's assets are practically worthless. The Columbia Mutual Building & Loan Association is one of the largest of its kind.

Mr. Russell, of Russell & Winslow, attorneys for the complainant, said that the Association became insolvent because of inability to realize upon assets and to pay withdrawing stockholders some $200,000.

After the service of the process upon the corporation yesterday the directors instructed the attorney of the company, George F. Alexander, of No. 122 Nassau street, to admit the insolvency of the company.

As Mr. Kennard had been associated with the company for so short a time that no suspicion of mismanagement or of affairs could attach to him, the directors asked that he be appointed temporary receiver.

Referring to Miers in his complaint, Mr. Russell said that the Association's assets were practically worthless, that the Association had no real estate represented by second and third mortgages.

The liabilities, he declares, are far in excess of the present value of the estimated placed upon them by the corporation.

He also recites that actual experience has shown and demonstrated that the assets of the company were practically worthless, and that the Association had no real estate represented by second and third mortgages.

The Columbia Mutual Building and Loan Association was incorporated in 1887 to construct a mutual building and loan company.

It has about $600,000 of share holders in various States.

The officers and directors of the Association are: John Hanson Kennard, President; M. C. Beard, Vice-President; and Treasurer, Edward M. Hanson, Second Vice-President, Louis A. Sullivan, Secretary, Silas R. Ditcher, Samuel K. Raymond, Horatio S. Stewart, and Daniel M. Post, Directors.
